

Vivian Washington

Vivian Washington is an Educator in the Children and Youth Institute at Michigan State University Extension. During her 18 years with MSU Extension, she has supported child and family development by providing education in the areas of parenting, childcare, small business development, financial capability, consumer protection, and housing.